

Intelligent Storage Resource Services for the RAINS Project

The Resource Aware Intelligent network Services (RAINS) project, funded by the DOE Office of Science, is a collaborative research project between the University of Maryland (UMD) and Argonne National Laboratory. This subcontract is to support a graduate student supervised by Zhiling Lan at Illinois Institute of Technology to work on the RAINS project.

Members:

- Zhiling Lan (faculty)
- Xin Wang (Ph.D. student)

Collaborators:

- Raj Kettimuthu and Wei Tang (ANL/MCS)

Publications:

- X. Wang, W. Tang, R. Kettimuttu, and Z. Lan, "Utility-Based Scheduling for Bulk Data Transfers Between Distributed Computing Facilities", Workshop on Parallel Programming Models and Systems Software for High-End Computing (P2S2), in conjunction with ICPP'15, 2015.
